INTRODUCTION

After 16 months of preparation the "Chambers Family Tree" is hereby submitted to the many Chambers and related families for their approval and comment. The list of ancestors from Grandfather and Grandmother to the last-born, is complete, with a few exceptions. I wish to take this opportunity to thank Uncle Lew, Aunt Agnes, in particular, and all others who co-operated, and at the same time forgive the few who refused to co-operate with me in compiling this so-called volume, which is being mailed free of charge to all relatives as a gesture of friendship.

I have endeavored to collect data on our grandparents' ancestors, as well as their sisters and brothers. In this I have had a degree of success. Two genealogists, one in Washington, D. C., and another in Cincinnati, were engaged to assist me in this work. It is my intention to follow this phase of the work and report later in the way of a supplement.

Following this introduction will be found the data I have been able to unearth concerning grandfather and grandmother's parents and sisters and brothers. Following this will appear biographies of the grandparents and their children in the order of their birth.

A total of 700 letters have been typed and mailed from this address to relatives, genealogists, genealogical and historical societies, city, county and state libraries, the Library of Congress, and probate departments of the various states, in securing this data.

Between each mimeographed page of the "tree" will be found two blank pages of bond paper, which will take pen and ink. These extra pages are for correction of possible errors and addition of future families that are bound to follow. The mimeograph paper also can be used for notations. A ball-point pen is more suitable for this. This arrangement should care for posterity for another 100 years.

Finally, the family tree, compiled according to my own ideas, which I shall endeavor to explain to the best of my ability.

It begins with our grandparents, followed by their children. Next appears the family of Uncle Landon and his children's children. Adah, the first of the family had no children, but Wilbur, the second, had five children, including one by his wife's first husband.

Wilbur's first child and her children are listed completely before the second daughter and her children are taken up. This plan is followed to the last. Believing no inconvenience will be encountered by this method I will close this introduction.

Respectfully submitted,

RILEY CHAMBERS

GRANDFATHER'S GRANDPARENTS

(On his mother's side)

Joseph Wisbey and Jane Ray were married in March of 1802, in Monongalia County, Virginia (now West Virginia). The ceremony was performed by Rev. David Dunham. They had 12 children, No. 11 being Lew Wisbey who later joined the Cincinnati Volunteer Department, ending as chief of that organization. This family moved to Brown County, O., some years later, settling in the White Oak Creek district.

Joseph Wisbey served a short "hitch" in the army during the War of 1812. His record indicates he offered his services at Decatur, Adams County (now in Brown County, due to a change in county boundaries). He served as a private in a company of cavalry acting as mounted infantry. The record is a bit confusing, but it appears he served from April 14 to December 4, 1814, when he was discharged at Sandwich, in Canada. He may have been prisoner of the British or Canadians, as Sandwich is across the river from Detroit, where General Hull surrendered his army. Joseph Wisbey died in 1830 near Mt. Orab or Buford, O.

Nothing is known of grandfather's grandparents on his father's side, except that she was a widow and came from Old Virginia to Brown County with her son, Benjamin R. Chambers when Benjamin was 13 years old, settling in approximately the same neighborhood as the Joseph Wisbeys. Sarah D. Wisbey and Benjamin R. Chambers were married on a date to be determined (about 1828 or 29.) They had four children:

America Chambers, born May 25, 1830, in Georgetown, O.

Uriel B. Chambers, born February 20, 1832, in Georgetown.

Lusitta J. Chambers, born March 30, 1835, in Georgetown.

Landon Chambers, born May 20, 1840, in Hugginsport, O.

America Chambers was married and had a daughter who became blind after a siege of smallpox. She was educated to read brail and real bright.

Lusitta J. (Aunt Jane) Chambers was married at least twice. One of her husbands was a Mr. Malott, and she had a son, Isaac Malott.

Landon Chambers changed his name to Harry Landon Chambers because of a dislike of "Landon" by a girl friend. This brings to light a pact made between grandfather and his brother Landon. They agreed to name their first sons after one another. This pact was kept, the former having a son Landon and the latter a son Uriel, by his first wife, Adda, who died later.

Harry Landon also served a short term in the army during the Civil War. Oddly enough, his service record reveals he was in the same company and regiment as grandfather's, Co. E, 39th O.V.I. He enlisted July 13, 1861 and was discharged September 1 of the same year as physically unfit, due to a rupture. He was a shoemaker by trade.

He was married a second time and, with the new wife, went to California. The son, Uriel, followed later and died soon after. It has been definitely established that Harry Landon Chambers and his wife owned and operated a shoe factory in Petaluma, Calif., in 1894. So far I have been unable to get more information.

Uriel's father, Benjamin R. Chambers, died October 19, 1848, at the age of 52 years, seven months and one day. His mother later married a Mr. Roberts and died March 4, 1882.

GRANDMOTHER'S PARENTS

William M. Jones was born in Virginia May 15, 1798. He and Hannah Malott (date and place of birth unknown) were married October 28, 1832. Jones is reported to have been married three times, his second wife being a sister of the first who, having been married before, had a child by her first husband and three or four by Jones. Nothing is known about the third wife except she was much younger than Mr. Jones. From the data I have gathered there were five children by the first wife:

Grandmother, born June 22, 1833, in Milford, O.

Barbara Ellen Jones, born July 29, 1835 (place of birth unknown).

Alexander Jones, born August 7, 1837 (" " " ").

Ira Perin Jones, born October 31, 1838 (" " " ").

Malon B. Jones, born October 29, 1842 (" " " ").

Here it is believed the second wife "took over", and it is assumed the second wife and children all died of tuberculosis. The following was furnished by a granddaughter of Ira Perin Jones: "Third set of children":

Henry Jones, born September 4, 1858.

Margaret Jones, born February 28, 1860.

Moriah Jones, born April 20, 1864.

Hattie Jones, born May 19, 1867.

The last (not clear) but believed to be Mary, born April 18, 1870.

Malon B. Jones died November 12, 1908, in Cincinnati; Ira Jones died July 3, 1932, at over 95. William Jones, the father, died in the Clermont County infirmary August 25, 1881, at 83 years.

Barbara Ellen Jones married Benton Monjar, they lived at Amelia, O., for a time and then in Rushville, Ind. Alexander was a resident of Mt. Carel for several years, then moved to Amelia, where he was janitor of the Methodist Church, and is believed to have died there. Ira went to Illinois and lived in Sailor Springs. He was a carpenter by trade and owned a furniture store at one time. He died in Indianapolis, Ind. Malon was a stationary engineer and died of cancer. Margaret Jones was a visitor at the Wisbey farm in 1877 and was detained there by illness before going to Cincinnati.

BIOGRAPHIES

GRANDFATHER AND GRANDMOTHER

Uriel (Uriah) B. Chambers was born in or near Georgetown, Ohio, on February 20, 1832. The initial "B" is said to represent the name "Bur-chard", a friend of his mother. Not much is known about his boyhood, but he has related that during his youth he was employed on a farm at $4 per month, with the privilege of attending school two months of the year---January and February.

At the age of 21, he married Christianna Jones October 4, 1853, in Mt. Carmel, O. After the births of Landon and Ira, Uriel enlisted for three years in the Union army for Civil War service. He enlisted at Fulton, near Cincinnati, July 13, 1861. He was mustered into Co. E, 39th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry as corporal at Camp Dennison, O. The record reveals he was present at muster rolls until January 21, 1862. While on duty as corporal of the guard at Palmyra, Mo., he accidentally discharged his rifle, suffering a foot wound. He was hospitalized at Benton Barracks, in St. Louis. Following hospitalization he was reduced to private and discharged from further service. He came home on crutches.

After his wound healed he lived in or near Cincinnati, for Elmer was born in Cincinnati, Lew in Cleves, Hamilton County, and Agnes in Cincinnati. In Cincinnati city directories of 1866, 1867 and 1869, Uriel is recorded as a teamster, although his service record lists him as a horse trainer. The family's Cincinnati address was 1462 Front Street.

In the fall of 1869 or spring of 1870, the Chambers family moved to the Lew Wisbey farm in Clinton County, where they remained nine years. It was during this time that Benjamin, Sarah, and Adda were born, in 1872, 1874 and 1877, respectively.

After leaving the Wisbey place the family occupied the following places, consecutively: Noble Scott farm, one winter in West Woodville, both in Clermont County, Tom Patterson farm in Warren County, the Charlie Scott place in Clermont County, then the Hampton place in Clinton County.

In 1889, the family gave up farm life and moved to Blanchester, O., where grandfather's activities included a co-partnership in the farm implement business, veterinary service, working with the health department, and working as a night watchman at the Western Hame Works.

Benjamin died at the home in Blanchester May 25, 1908; grandfather passed away September 11, 1911, and grandmother lived until July 25, 1925. Her death was hastened by complications following a hip fracture. She was 92 years, one month and 3 days old at time of demise, and had resided in the same home for 36 years.

LANDON R. CHAMBERS

Landon Robertson Chambers (the name Robertson is believed honored a friend of the family) was born March 29, 1856, in Cottage Grove, O. He was 23 when the family moved from the Wisbey farm to the Noble Scott farm in Clermont County. He continued with the family for some time before he got the urge to travel and went west as far as Texas. After returning he acquired a one-horse hay press, one of the first in that section. He went from place to place, baling hay for the farmers.

It was during this period that he met Mary Middleton on the farm of a Mr. Connor, near Cuba, in Clinton County. Turning the hay press over to Lew Chambers, Landon spent some time in getting Mary Middleton to say "yes". They were married September 26, 1886, in Cuba. The couple joined the family on the Charlie Scott place in West Woodville, later occupying a tenant house on the place. Adah was born in Grandmother's house, and it is believed Wilbur was born in the same neighborhood.

In 1889 Landon and his family moved to Blanchester, occupying a home next door to grandfather's newly-acquired home. It was here that Mable was born, and also the child, Ivy Christine, who died in infancy. The family moved to Cincinnati in 1892 or 1893, where Clara was born. Landon's first job was with the street car barns, followed by many years with the B. H. Kroger Co. His last position was with the Globe Wernicke in Norwood. Landon lived several years after retirement, surviving his wife by nearly 14 years.

IRA CHAMBERS

Ira Jones Chambers was born January 2, 1860, in Mt. Carmel, O. He, like others of the family, spent part of his boyhood in Cincinnati and on the Wisbey farm. During the last year here his health failed and he spent the winter of 1879 in Arkansas, returning to the family in the spring. From this point he helped with farm work and began the teaching profession.

While on the Charlie Scott farm he met Emma McHenry, a domestic at Noble Scott place, nearby. They were married September 1, 1886. Continuing his teaching, he was at the Osceola school in Warren County when his wife passed away in 1888. Finishing the term at Osceola, he is believed to have gone to Cincinnati, where he took up the printing trade. At the Methodist Book Concern, he met and married Nellie Borden.

After this marriage Ira became a conductor on the old Vine Street cable line. In 1893 the family, which had increased by one daughter, moved to Blanchester, where Ira was employed on the Blanchester Star for eight years or more, until going into the printing business for himself. Nellie Borden Chambers died shortly after the birth of a second daughter, Nellie, in 1896.

In 1899, Ira married Dora Lemon. In 1913 the family moved to Bremerton, Washington, where they remained three or four years before returning to Ohio. For a time he operated a newspaper in Ashley, O. Selling out, he worked in various towns in Ohio, winding up in Cincinnati. After retiring to Fuyetteville, O., where his wife, Dora, passed away in 1933, he went to Memphis, Tenn., where he is now living with his daughter, Lenora Kilpatrick.

ELMER CHAMBERS

Elmer Chambers was born in Cincinnati, O., June 9, 1863. He was six or seven years of age when the family moved from Cincinnati to the Wisbey farm in Clinton County. In later years he helped with the farm work in the summer and taught school a few terms. In 1884 he entered the post office department in Cincinnati under the newly inaugurated civil service system. Soon after he met Francis America Smith at Wesley Chapel church services. They were married March 24, 1886.

His postal service included railway postal work, various assignments in the main post office and as head of branch offices in Norwood and Hyde Park. After more than 45 years' service, he retired on pension. He was prominent in Masonic orders. Francis Chambers died in 1945 and Elmer passed away in 1951 at the Springfield, O., Masonic Home.

LEWIS CHAMBERS

Lewis Chambers was born October 9, 1865, in Cleves, Hamilton County, O., and was four or five when the move was made from Cincinnati to the Wisbey place. In 1879, when the move was made to the Noble Scott farm in Clermont County, Lew was an experienced farmer and relates the "going was tough" in 1879 and 1880 providing for the large family.

Lew continued to be his father's main helper for some time until the Charles Scott farm was occupied, when he spent parts of two summers in Lebanon and Mason, O. He also helped Landon with his hay press. When the family gave up farm life in 1889, Lew went to Cincinnati, where he met and married Charlotte Totten. They were married in Blanchester May 22, 1890, and in December of the same year went to Chattanooga, Tenn., where Lew engaged in railway work until July of 1893. Returning to Cincinnati, railway work was again taken up. Lottie passed away in 1910.

Lew was married again in 1914 and a month later began work with the Cincinnati Park Department, remaining until retirement in 1935. In 1936 the return was made to Chattanooga. His second wife passed away in 1948. Lew held many positions in the Jr. O. U. A. M., and both wives were prominent in the auxiliary, D. of A. Lew now resides with his son Frederick in Chattanooga.

AGNES CHAMBERS

Agnes Belle Chambers was born in Cincinnati April 12, 1869. The following year her parents moved to the Wisbey farm. She was kept busy later in life with her share of the housework. Later she worked out some and when her brother Ira's wife died she kept house for him. In 1891 she was married to Andrew Jackson Connor in Lebanon, O. Their daughter, Mary, was born May 1, 1893, in Morrow, O.

They occupied various farms from time to time and Jack was a section foreman for the Pennsylvania Railway in the Oregonia district. Their home, for several years was on the bank of the Little Miami River in Morrow, O. Each spring the home was partially under water, which called for moving to higher ground and a return when the waters subsided to "clean house". Eventually a move was made to higher ground, free from floods. Jack Connor died suddenly August 14, 1941, of pneumonia. The home was sold and Agnes now resides in Loveland, O., near one of her grandchildren.

BENJAMIN CHAMBERS

Ben Chambers was born on the Lew Wisbey farm in Clinton County, O., May 8, 1872. Nothing is known of his early activities, except that when old enough he is reported to have been a good worker until the family moved to Blanchester, when he apparently succumbed to wanderlust. He spent several months in the south, particularly New Orleans. He later traveled to Chattanooga for a visit with Uncle Lew and Aunt Lottie.

That night several men, including Uncle Ben, were picked up by a railway detective for trespassing and turned over to the sheriff. In looking over the group, the sheriff spotted the Knights of Pythias pin Ben was wearing, took him to his home and arranged transportation back to Cincinnati. Among the positions held later were those of railway switchman and stationary engineer, both in Cincinnati.

From here he went to New York City where he is believed to have been employed on surface and elevated railways. He made two or three trips home, the last time in poor health, from which he never recovered. He passed away May 25, 1898, at the family home in Blanchester.

SARAH CHAMBERS

Sarah Ellen Chambers was born March 13, 1874, also on the Wisbey place. She was 15 when the family moved to Blanchester. The writer of this biography remembers one particular line of work she undertook at this tender age--that of weaving rattan seats for chairs furnished by a local factory. She was also employed as a maid by several families, one in particular being at the home of a prominent undertaker on Seventh street in Cincinnati.

She was married to Oscar Tottleben, September 12, 1906. Two of their children were born in Cincinnati. They later moved to Columbus, O., where their third child was born, but died in infancy. The next move was to Los Angeles, Calif., where the last two children were born.

Oscar Tottleben was divorced in 1939, and ten years later Sarah was married to Ora L. Warner in Los Angeles.

ADDA CHAMBERS

Adda Jane Chambers, the last of the family, and the last born on the Wisbey place, was born February 23, 1877. She was 12 years old when coming to Blanchester, where she finished grade and high school, graduating with honors from the latter in 1906. In her spare time she, too, worked on chair seats.

While visiting her brother Lew in Cincinnati, she met Benjamin Williams. They were married April 14, 1897, at her parents' home in Blanchester and set up housekeeping in Cincinnati, where Ben was employed as a railway car inspector. Their daughter, an only child, was born May 11, 1898.

In 1904 Ben became interested in a new cement called magnasite. The Williams moved to Chicago, a center of this industry at the time. Ben Williams passed away December 10, 1919. Addie remained in Chicago for a time, later to return to Blanchester to care for her aged mother. After her mother's death in 1925, she returned to Chicago and in 1937 went to California, where she now resides in Los Angeles.
